Dear Dr. Ladines,

This year's forum aims to foster a renewed sense of enthusiasm and passion among teachers for incorporating arts and humanities to enhance students' learning experiences. Specifically, it;

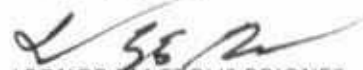

- highlights the role of arts and humanities in promoting well-being, self-expression, learning, and personal growth among teachers and students.
- showcases practical and innovative strategies/methods/tools that can be integrated effectively across subjects and classroom experiences.

With this, we would like to invite six (6) teacher representatives from your Division to join us in the said Forum. Registration is FREE, and participants will be accommodated on a per-slot basis. Attached for your kind reference is the Indicative Program of Activities, as well as the registration link wherein recommended participants can register online (<https://forms.gle/KBoikJ3pP5fCaCCa8>).
