Dear Ms. Gonzales,

Good day!

Dengue remains as one of the foremost health threats in the country. On February 17, 2025, the Department of Health (DOH) announced a significant increase in cases, particularly in various cities within the National Capital Region (NCR). This alarming situation underscores the urgent need for enhanced local responses. Moreover, there is a necessity for ongoing and intensified control and prevention efforts at the community level. Consequently, schools are instrumental in implementing proactive measures to mitigate the spread of dengue and other mosquito-borne infections.

In this regard, we would like to formally request the strengthening of 4 o'clock habit of source reduction in all Public High Schools and Elementary Schools, as well as the ongoing implementation of Ovi-Larvi Trapping activities in Public Elementary Schools.

Hoping for your usual support for this endeavor.

Thank you very much.

Respectfully yours,

LEILANI C. MUNSAYAC, MD
